

New electric vehicle charging point

“Build it and they will come” is a saying adapted from the movie Field of Dreams. That philosophy seems to have worked for a new electric charging point which is located in the public carpark immediately south of our building. Some owners had enquired about having an electric car charging point installed in the building but it is not a matter which the Owners Corporation Executive Committee has considered so far. Anyhow, there’s one close by now ... and as the photo shows it is already being used.